

Press Release

QuickLessons at Online Educa Berlin 2009

Miami, FL November 30, 2009 - From December 2nd to 4th, QuickLessons will be in Berlin, Germany to showcase the leading online Rapid e-Learning platform QuickLessons during the 15th edition of Online Educa Berlin.

At the event, considered one of the most important in this area, experienced and knowledgeable professionals of the global e-Learning industry convene to explore, discuss and learn about best practices and technologies for Online Education.

This year, the event entitled The 15th International Conference on Technology Supported Learning & Training will gather over 2000 delegates from more than 90 countries. QuickLessons will have a booth, sharing experiences and showcasing successful clients that made use of this platform.

During the exhibition, QuickLessons' team will show different ways of using the platform, as well as how to integrate it with other flash-based authoring tools, delivering superior and professional looking courses. The team will be there to give demos and discuss the benefits of online rapid content authoring and content managing.
